I'm a multi-skilled creative, able to work confidently across set, scenic, puppetry, prop and costume disciplines. I have designed and made for a variety of professional and college productions. My skills and creations were recognised by the award of the Linbury Prize in 2023. My personal qualities include strong interpersonal skills. I bring a collaborative and assertive approach to work and production meeting. I'm organised, thorough, pay attention to detail, and find solutions. My experience has also given me good budgetary management and creative use of available resources
